RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 338 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.7in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1887 edition. Excerpt: . . . the Whole world in conformity with your aestheticisms. . . a vain dream, and if realised it would result in an impossible world. A wife and children are the basis of existence, and it is folly to cry out because an appeal to such interests as these meet with response. . . it will be so till the end of time. And. these great interests that are to continue to the end of time began two years ago, when your pictures were not praised in the Figaro as much as you thought they should be. Marriage--what an abomination I Love--yes, but not marriage. Love cannot exist in marriage, because love is an ideal; that is to say, something not quite understood--transparencies, colour, light, a sense of the unreal. But a wife--you know all about her----who her father was, who her mother was, what she thinks of you and her opinion of the neighbours over the way. Where, then, is the dream, the au deld. There is none. I say in marriage an au deld is impossible. . . . the endless duet of the marble and the water, the enervation of burning odours, baptismal whiteness of women, light, ideal tissues, eyes strangely dark with kohl, names that evoke palm trees and ruins, Spanish moonlight or maybe Persepolis. That monosyllable which epitomises the ennui and the prose of our lives is heard not, thought not there, only the nightingale harmony of an eternal yes. Freedom...
